Western Union Foundation Awards Grant to African Mutual Assistance Agency of Missouri

The AMAAM Board of Directors is proud to announce a grant of $10,000 from Western Union Foundation. These funds will be used for operating costs.

In addition to its many services, AMAAM will be able to provide and expand necessary education for African legal immigrants and naturalized citizens to use Western Union in sending remittances to Africa. The company is a credible resource for sending and receiving money internationally, maintaining a high standard of security and accountability for itself and its customers.

For two decades, African Mutual Assistance Association of Missouri, formerly the Ethiopian community Association of Missouri, has been providing complementary and supportive social services to African refugees, asylees, and other categories of legal immigrants to improve their lives in St. Louis. These complementary and supportive services directly and indirectly benefit African refugees and asylees in addition to mainstream services provided by larger resettlement agencies for self-sufficiency.
